Religious Leaders Ask Veto For Tuition Bill

LANSING (AP) — Protestant and Jewish leaders Monday asked Gov. George Romney to veto a bill which would help pay the tuition of needy students attending private colleges and universities, including schools with religious affiliations.

Already approved by the Senate, it won 87-14 House passage this week.

In its original form, the bill would have applied only to those students choosing private over public schools. But a House amendment provides that the same grants be given students attending public colleges. The amendment, along with several others tacked on by the House, now has gone back to the Senate for concurrence.

The plan would cost an estimated $3.3 million the first year; $16 million annually when a four-year phase-in is completed.

Spokesmen for the Jewish Community Council of the Metropolitan Detroit and the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches backed a previous statement of the Michigan Council of Churches in condemning the measure.

The dissenting groups issued a statement sent to Romney saying "historic experience impresses upon us the lesson that involvement of government with religion is good for neither."

However, leaders of private Michigan colleges, both Catholic and Protestant, are on record as saying the legislation is essential to preserve a dual system of higher education in Michigan.

Primary Fight Challenge To Chicago Mayor

WASHINGTON (AP)—With backing from some civil rights leaders, challengers are trying in the Illinois primary today to end the congressional careers of two veteran House members allied with the Chicago Democratic organization.

In South Carolina, a former governor, Ernest F. Hollings, is seeking to sideline Democratic Sen. Donald S. Russell.

The top office nominally involved in the Illinois primary is that of picking a Republican candidate to run against Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas, who has no opposition for renomination.

But industrialist Charles H. Percy is regarded as such a certain winner of the GOP nomination against weak opposition that attention has centered on the Chicago contests for Democratic nominations to House seats.

The congressional veterans confronted with challenges are Reps. Barratt O'Hara and William L. Dawson. Defeat for either would damage the prestige of Mayor Richard J. Daley's organization with which they are associated.

Puerto Ricans Stage Another Chicago Riot

CHICAGO (AP) — Police fought with more than 1,000 rioting Puerto Ricans Monday night in the second straight night of violence on Chicago's Northwest Side.

Seven Puerto Ricans were shot and wounded and 37 more were arrested before the rioting was brought under control early today, police said.

Police said one of the men was shot when he threw a fire bomb.

Police officials said the other six apparently were hit by stray bullets.

Among several other persons injured by flying bottles and bricks was John Elmer, 31, a Chicago Tribune reporter. He was released after treatment for cuts on the jaw.

Hospital authorities had no count of the injured who were treated.

Looting was reported in some stores in the area, where police ordered stores closed for the night. Glass from broken store windows littered the streets where Puerto Rican youths walked with signs charging police brutality.

Puerto Rican spokesman said they planned a protest march today from Humboldt Park to City Hall in downtown Chicago.

Murder Laid To Deaf-Mute

REED CITY (AP) — Carl E. Wineman, 24, of Ewart, demanded examination Monday through his court-appointed attorney on a charge of murder in the fatal shooting of George Seman, 35, an Ewart policeman.

Justice Bertha Stafford ordered the defendant jailed without bond to await a hearing June 28.

Wineman, a deaf-mute who had worked at a variety of jobs, was arrested Sunday at the Ewart apartment of his father-in-law, William Youngs, after the shooting of Seman. The Ewart police officer died Monday in a Grand Rapids hospital. A State Police expert from Detroit was brought in to communicate with Wineman after the shooting.

Authorities said Wineman and his wife, Rachel, had encountered marital problems and she had been staying with her parents. A family disturbance call brought Seman to the Youngs' home shortly after midnight Saturday.

Seman reported by radio that he had arrested Wineman and was taking him prisoner to the Oscoda County jail. He failed to arrive. Passing motorists found Seman lying wounded by the road west of Ewart, his patrol car and service pistol missing.

State Police said Wineman returned to Youngs' apartment where Youngs subdued him and took the gun away. Youngs held Wineman for State Police.

Mississippi Marchers Warned On Behavior

GRENADE, Miss. (AP) — Men and women of the Mississippi march, after being reminded of accusations of scandalous behavior during an earlier civil rights march, stepped out today for another nine miles of walking and more voter registration efforts.

The marchers, numbering about 130, mostly Negroes, had bedded down Monday night on a grassy campsite. They slept in revivalist-style tents, sleeping bags, or rolled up in blankets.

Floyd B. McKissick, a march leader, admonished the group: "Remember Selma? A man got up in Congress after that and said civil rights people are immoral, that they were doing very personal things in the presence of each other," McKissick said.

McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, referred to accusations by segregationist groups after the Alabama march from Selma to Montgomery last year. His talk drew laughs from the crowd, some of whom had been on that march.

The Mississippi march, started in Memphis, Tenn., by James H. Meredith June 5, had covered 81 of the 225 miles to Jackson, the state capital. Meredith was shot June 6 near Hernando and is recuperating in New York. He had planned the march as a demonstration that Negroes should not fear to register as voters.

McKissick addressed the campsite crowd from atop an oil drum after the 250 marchers ate their evening meal. He briefed them on the plan for Grenada.

Dallas Jurors Call Ruby Sane

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Jack Ruby murder case, plagued by legal complications and wrangles among defense lawyers, appears finally to be on its way to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Ruby's conviction and death sentence for the Nov. 24, 1963, killing of Lee Harvey Oswald has not yet technically progressed beyond the trial court level. Oswald was named by the Warren Commission as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy. Kennedy was shot Nov. 22, 1963.

But one major obstacle to the movement of Ruby's trial was removed Monday when a Dallas District Court jury ruled that the 55-year-old former strip joint operator was legally sane.

Ruby was convicted of murder March 14, 1964, in the same court—Criminal District Court No. 3—that adjudged him sane.

The defense, claiming that Ruby was insane, had requested a sanity hearing a month after the conviction. It was repeatedly delayed for various reasons.

It took a seven-man five-woman jury only 10 minutes Monday to rule that Ruby was sane.

JACK RUBY, convicted slayer of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, is escorted from Dallas, Texas County Jail by Sheriff Bill Decker, left, enroute to the court house for a sanity hearing on Monday. At right is Deputy Sheriff Ralph Weaver. Ruby, 55, is under death sentence for the Oswald slaying and the hearing is being held to decide whether he was sane or insane at the time of the killing. Suspect Questioning Decision Is Blasted

Hoffa Plans For Comeback If He Goes To Prison

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa confirmed today that if he goes to prison he intends to resume control of the world's largest union when he gets out.

Without commenting directly on his two federal convictions, Hoffa said he plans to rewrite the union's constitution to restore himself to power if he becomes "unavailable" for a while.

Hoffa chatted amiably and frankly like a man without a worry in the world, despite 13 years in pending prison sentences, in an interview outlining plans for the Teamsters' July 4 convention in Miami Beach.

"It will be a very important convention," Hoffa said — perhaps the most crucial in his nine stormy years as head of the giant union.

Hoffa is expected to be re-elected to a new five-year term by acclamation when the 2,200 convention delegates meet.

He spelled out fully for the first time the proposed constitutional change to create a new post of general vice president, or executive vice president.

The general vice president would automatically succeed Hoffa if he lost his appeals and went to prison, or became unavailable for any other reason.

If Hoffa again became "available" before the end of his regular five-year term as president, the vice president automatically would step back down for Hoffa to resume his post as union chief — all without a special convention or election.

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. paratroopers clashed with North Vietnamese troops in the central highlands today and the U.S. brigade commander said the enemy is "no longer a fighting force."

At the same time, a brigade spokesman estimated the North Vietnamese, the 24th Regiment of from 1,400 to 2,000 men, had lost more than 1,000 in killed alone in a week of fighting.

Brig Gen. Willard Pearson, commanding the 1st Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division, told reporters: "I believe this battle has set the Viet Cong timetable (of offensive action) back several months."

In the fighting on ridges 35 miles north of Kontum, Pearson said he expected a kill ratio of 14 to 1. South Vietnamese troops have joined the fighting.

The new fighting continued through the afternoon against a company-size force of about 100 North Vietnamese.

Women Blockade Garbagemen In Angry Protest

WARREN, Mich. (AP)—Angry housewives blockaded a garbage truck in suburban Warren for two hours as a result of a labor disagreement.

Public Service Director L. Mason Capitani limited the amount of garbage to be collected per household to two cans after DPW workers, in a contract dispute, had refused to work overtime.

About 35 housewives blockaded a truck at an intersection Tuesday in protest against being prohibited from emptying cans themselves. Then they dispersed peacefully.

Economy Stress

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "Boom conditions" imposed strains on the economy of the Southeast during April, the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta says in its monthly review.

Labor shortages, higher Social Security taxes and income tax withholdings, and stiffer mortgage conditions were cited among factors which held back the economy of the 6th Federal Reserve District.

Far from being ready to complete its work in July as Johnson once predicted it could, Congress has enacted only six major bills—excise tax restoration, emergency defense appropriations, GI benefits, uniform Daylight Saving Time, Asian Development Bank and Food for India. This is an average of about one a month.

With the exception of House passage of minimum wage increase and Food for Freedom bills, neither house has tackled any of the social and economic legislation asked by Johnson to strengthen civil rights, clear city slums, unravel the transportation snarl and accelerate health and education programs.

The Senate, where the legislative machinery moves at a cracking pace at best, met 40 minutes Monday. It passed a sheaf of minor relief bills and quit until Wednesday.

It had nothing important on its docket because its committees haven't acted one way or the other on the measures the President has proposed. The Foreign Relations Committee, for example, hasn't come up with an agreement on foreign aid after kicking it around for nearly a month.

Court Accused Of Taking Risk In Crime Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Law enforcement officials fired a salvo of criticism today at the Supreme Court's new decision riving down strict rules on the questioning of suspects.

The ruling by the high court Monday covers every police station and sheriff's office in the land.

"It's the damnest thing I ever heard of," said Police Chief Henry C. Ashley of Garland, Tex., when news of the ruling in four confession cases reached the Texas Police Association convention at Odessa. "We may as well close up shop."

What the court did in a 5-4 decision announced by Chief Justice Earl Warren was rule out of bounds in trials all incriminating statements made by a suspect whose constitutional right against possible self-incrimination are not safeguarded by the police.

The ruling split the justices into two camps, and the dissenters fired angry words at the majority.

Harlan Objects

His face visibly flushed, Justice John M. Harlan accused Warren and the four justices who lined up with him of "a hazardous experiment at a time when the crime rate in this country is a problem of growing concern."

"The court is taking a real risk with society's welfare in imposing its new regime on the country," Harlan said in a dissenting opinion joined by Justices Potter Stewart and Byron R. White.

Then White, in a dissent joined by Harlan and Stewart, said "in some unknown number of cases the court's rule will return a killer, a rapist or other criminal to the streets and to the environment which produced him, to repeat his crime whenever it pleases him."

"As a consequence," the former deputy attorney general added, "there will not be a gain, but a loss, in human dignity."

Protects Individual

The Supreme Court already has been on the receiving end of criticism from some quarters that it has not been as avid in protecting society in general as it has been in ensuring the rights of individuals in the grips of the law.

Warren sought to dispel any notion that Tuesday's ruling will snarl law enforcement officials. The decision, he said, "is not intended to hamper the traditional function of police officers investigating crime."

Still, an obvious byproduct of the decision is that confessions will have to meet a strict test of voluntariness to be of any use in court. This may mean police will have to put greater stress on investigations to solve crimes.

"We do not purport to find all confessions inadmissible," Warren said in his 61-page opinion. Confessions remain a proper element in law enforcement, he said, and any statement given freely and voluntarily "without any compelling influences" is admissible in evidence.

Mid-Year Stalling Point:

Johnson Programs In Peril

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is nearing a midyear stalling point with indications that President Johnson is going to have to bear down on the throttle to save his Great Society programs.

Far from being ready to complete its work in July as Johnson once predicted it could, Congress has enacted only six major bills—excise tax restoration, emergency defense appropriations, GI benefits, uniform Daylight Saving Time, Asian Development Bank and Food for India. This is an average of about one a month.

With the exception of House passage of minimum wage increase and Food for Freedom bills, neither house has tackled any of the social and economic legislation asked by Johnson to strengthen civil rights, clear city slums, unravel the transportation snarl and accelerate health and education programs.

The Senate, where the legislative machinery moves at a cracking pace at best, met 40 minutes Monday. It passed a sheaf of minor relief bills and quit until Wednesday.

It had nothing important on its docket because its committees haven't acted one way or the other on the measures the President has proposed. The Foreign Relations Committee, for example, hasn't come up with an agreement on foreign aid after kicking it around for nearly a month.

Johnson had the Senate committee chairmen last week for individual reports on what their groups were doing. Some of the chairmen said there was no pressure for a speedup.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said there were 64 bills—by no means all of them classified as major—on the list the administration would like to have passed before Congress quits for the year.

These, of course, are in addition to the regular government money bills. Of these only that for the Interior Department thus far has been enacted into law.

A July 4 vacation, on which House members will take 10 days off officially and senators will match their time unofficially, will provide some new readings on how the folks at home feel about the legislative program as well as the Viet Nam war.

If Congress comes back after that break in its present wait-while mood, Johnson is going to face the choice of going to the whip or giving up on major segments of his programs.

As a man who seldom gives up on anything, Johnson is likely to make it a hot summer for the lawmakers. If that happens many of them may be in Washington answering roll calls next autumn instead of being at home campaigning.

Elly Peterson Assails Demos

The misconduct of Democrat members of the Michigan Legislature and the failure of Democrat Congressman Raymond Clevenger to do anything for the people of his district in Northern Michigan were assailed Monday night by Republican State Chairman Elly M. Peterson in a speech at Ontonagon.

Addressing a Republican dinner, Mrs. Peterson also called former Democrat Governor G. Mennen Williams, now running for the United States Senate, a tired, worn-out, hack politician. Mrs. Peterson dwelt at length on the recent arrests of Democrat legislators for drunken driving, morals charges and other offenses. She pointed out that their misconduct was a reflection upon the Legislature as a whole and demanded to know why the Democrat majority in Lansing had kept silent while Republicans had called for reforms in Legislature rules of conduct.

As for Clevenger, she asked, "What has he done for the people of Northern Michigan except to pay lip service to their problems."

She also attacked the Democrats in the Legislature for their failure to support Governor Romney's effort to remove tolls from the Mackinac Bridge, a move that would help the economy of the Upper Peninsula.

School And Fire Millage Approved

HERMANVILLE — Voters in Monday's school election returned incumbent trustees and approved continued millage to finance the schools and the Meyer Township fire department.

Elected for four year terms were incumbents Lester L. Johnson and Reuben Marcoe without opposition. Louis Menard was elected for one year without opposition also.

The 11.5 mills for schools was continued for five years by a vote of 149 to 27; and the fire department 1 mill for five years was approved 142 to 34.

Goal: Business District Renewal

Keokuk, Iowa, had a problem which is sometimes described as central business district blight.

The difficulty has its counterpart in Escanaba: A business district that was gradually developing away from the downtown area and moving farther away toward the city's major highway entrance.

This movement "detracts from the entire central business district potential" here as it did in Keokuk.

Escanaba, in the planning stage toward a community action program that promotes hope will lead to an urban renewal project, was advised by its planning consultants, Harland Bartholomew & Associates, to take a look at the Keokuk program.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce sponsored a flight to Keokuk to examine the Urban Renewal Project.

Attract Patronage
Forrest Henslee, Chamber president; Larry Stein, chairman of the Retail Industries of Escanaba; John C. Walch, one of the community's leading businessmen; Walter Lewke, secretary - manager of the Chamber of Commerce; and Milton Embs, Planning Commission secretary and city administrative assistant.

They were welcomed by members of the Keokuk Urban Renewal Agency and Chamber of Commerce people and taken on a tour of the city, ending at the site of the Shopping Plaza.

They were told that Keokuk's redevelopment will place a major retail shopping facility within the heart of the downtown area, attracting new patronage, extending the city's trade area, enhancing the trade volume of other merchants, and thereby greatly strengthening the economic base of the community.

Private Developer
This will result in Keokuk's central area "being so strong and vigorous as to preclude competition from outlying shopping centers and consequent dissipation of the city's attractions as a retail center."

The scheduled improvements include: New commercial facilities, additional offstreet parking, miscellaneous street improvements, new storm sewers and improved drainage, underground conduit system for electric and telephone service, and new street lighting, traffic control and pedestrian safety.

Keokuk's Urban Renewal program is financed with a combination of federal and local funds. The public cost of the net project cost of an urban renewal project is the total cost of administering or executing a project less proceeds received from the sale of cleared land for redevelopment.

The project itself covers five square blocks and when the Escanaba delegation was there recently the area was completely leveled and the agency was in the process of selling it to the developer.

Low Local Cost
The gross cost of the project was $1,806,657, the Escanaba group was told. It is expected the sale of land to developers will bring in $423,000, leaving a net cost of $1,383,657. The federal government's share of this is three-quarters or about $980,000, and Keokuk's share is $295,915.

However, Keokuk provided non-cash grants in aid amounting to $128,000 and was required to pay in cash only $167,415. Should Escanaba go into an Urban Renewal project which would be adjacent to the parking lots under discussion in Escanaba's central business district, Escanaba would get credit for all the money it put into the parking lots.

Keokuk's Urban Renewal Agency has five members, with the director making six. There are 46 members on the advisory committee.

Escanaba and Keokuk "have many parallels and similarities," said Escanaba Chamber President Henslee.

"I believe we could do essentially the same thing here," he continued. "We have a choice to make. We can go to urban renewal—or face the development of a shopping center somewhere at the edge of town."

Possible Here
"The only way we can preserve our central business district is to develop it as a downtown shopping center. I was especially impressed in Keokuk at the speed with which they

Siamese Twins In Normal Life

GARDONE, Italy (AP) — Two 7-year-old girls who never talk about their past look forward happily to their future in an amazing new world of normal life.

They are Santina and Giuseppina Foglia, Siamese twin sisters born joined at the spine. They were separated in a five-hour operation May 10, 1965.

Since then they have learned to walk separately, even ride bicycles. Perhaps most remarkable of all they have learned to forget their six years in a Turin clinic. They refer to that part of their life simply as "prima" — before.

They are extraordinarily vital and lively. There is no visible difference to be noticed when they play with their schoolmates," says Maria Tumminelli. She is owner and director of the Tumminelli Boarding School in this Lake Garda resort where the twins now stay.

After their operation by a team of 15 specialists headed by Prof. Luigi Solerio, the two girls were kept under close medical observation during months of physical and psychological readjustment. They had to re-educate their limbs and acquire a new sense of balance.

They still perform corrective calisthenics at the school here. After the period of readjustment at the clinic the two girls settled in the house of their parents at Grazzano Badoglio.

Scout Camporee Well Attended

More than 200 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and Scouters held their annual district camporee at the Manistiquette Scout Forty, north of Manistiquette on June 10, 11, and 12. Troops and patrols came from Escanaba, Gladstone, Bark River, Rapid River, Wells, Cooks, and the host Troops 400 and 402 from Manistiquette.

Although many troops showed up for an optional day of camping on Friday the event officially began with registration with Ted Hentschell as registrar on Saturday morning. From 10 a.m. till 5 p.m., the Boy Scouts ages 11-14 were busy competing in Scoutcraft events such as firebuilding, sound identification, locating north without a compass, cross-cut sawing, nature events, etc., while the older Scouts served as assistant judges, timekeepers, and assisted in setting up the events.

Much of the emphasis in the competition was on good, all around camping.

The evening campfire at 9 p.m. on Saturday, June 11, consisted of stunts, skits, and group singing led by the Scoutmasters. The evening activities were then interrupted by a sudden shower of rain, after which, about 25 Scouts and Scouters were quickly "tapped out" for induction into the Order of the Arrow, an Honor Campers society within the B.S.A.

After church services Sunday, the Scouts had a leisurely breakfast followed by competition in either a baking or a fishing contest along the Indian River. The baking contest was won by the Green Bar patrol of Troop 400 with an apple pie and the fishing contest was won by Mike Augustson of Troop 466 with a 21½ inch northern pike.

During the closing ceremony at 1 p.m. Sunday, 10 blue ribbons were awarded to patrols which scored 735 of a possible 1,000 points; 10 red ribbons to patrols with 665-735 of 1,000 points; and yellow ribbons to patrols which scored less than 665 points.

The event was under the direction of Red Buck District Scout Executive Warren Danner and Camporee Master David Scherff who were assisted by other scoutmasters, explorer advisors, and commissioners.

Incidentally, two Scouters, Del Lonsen of T466 and Ted Henschell of Manistiquette were "tapped out" for induction into the organization known only as the "Order of the Arrow."

Many of the troops are now making preparations for their regular week of camping at Camp Red Buck, which operates from June 26 through Aug. 13.

Deer Hunt Advice

The Escanaba District Deer Advisory Committee has finished its study and made its recommendations to the State.

Most of its members thought the Conservation Department is doing a good job of managing the deer herd. They voted on four proposals. Nineteen of the 27 members voting recommended supporting the Conservation Department program. Two were for a change in the antlerless deer hunt quotas and six were for eliminating the antlerless hunts.

The votes show that the big majority support the Department in its present method of deer hunt management, but that a sizeable minority are not convinced and think that things should be changed.

This is probably a rough parallel of public thought on the question, although the public may not be as sizeably impressed with the Conservation Department performance because it doesn't know nearly as much about it as the devoted men of the Advisory Committee do. They gave four weekends to the study of the deer situation in the three county district (Delta and Marquette counties and the west half of Alger) and 10 members of the committee came up from the Lower Peninsula for all four sessions.

The nubbin of the long review emerged clearly. The amount of winter feed is the crucial element in deer plenty. If there's lots of winter feed there can be a big deer herd. If there isn't there can't be and the state had better crop it down with antlerless deer hunts to a balance with the feed. (Female deer eat and starve too.)

Some committeemen weren't convinced that there's overbrowsing of the natural winter food on the deer ranges and some questioned the Department's deer population figures, but most of them were convinced. They'll so report to the Conservation Commission, which, it is to be hoped, will be encouraged by the support to be less conservative in doing what it should be doing to provide the most hunting. (The Department has for years permitted the killing of fewer deer than it thinks should be killed for good herd management because the Legislature objects.)

The number of deer killed by hunters in the fall and the number of deer missing from the herd in the spring are related but not equated. This is the lesson that the Conservation Department finds difficult to teach to deer hunters. Many of them believe that the decline in the deer herd started with the shooting of antlerless deer, not with the reduction of winter feed. Some of them still believe that there shouldn't be an antlerless deer hunt, as shown by the balloting of the advisory committee, but the Conservation Department is gradually winning public acceptance of its beliefs.

What can be done about providing more winter feed for deer so that there can be more of them? Biologists and foresters say that the situation is going to worsen, not improve, as the forests mature, unless there's a lot more logging in the U. P. That isn't in prospect unless the State and Federal Government provide more late winter cutting of cedar.

They can and probably will do this and there can also be more help from the private forest ownerships.

The Deer Advisory Committee members said some things that needed to be said and which the Conservation Department is in poor position to say. They said that the Legislature shouldn't control the deer hunt; that it makes a political football out of an issue which legislators — and even hunters — are poorly qualified to judge.

The deer herd is not being managed as well as it could be. There isn't enough public knowledge yet to match the game biologists, and encourage support for maximum state management, but the situation seems to improve some and hopefully the Deer Advisory Committee helped it.

The Doctor Says:

Various Causes In Inflammation

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstad

Q—I have a chronic inflammation of the bladder. What causes it? I get relief by taking Mandelamine, but what I want is a cure.

A—Cystitis is caused by a germ that has reached your bladder either from the outside (ascending infection) or through your blood stream. It is aggravated by a highly acidic urine. If the condition is chronic there is no simple treatment since different causative germs require different drugs. Sulfas and nalidixic acid will often eliminate the cause.

Q—For a urinary discomfort my doctor prescribed Mandelamine. When it failed to give sufficient relief he gave me Furadantin. How do these drugs act?

A—Both are urinary antiseptics. They kill some but not all types of germs that cause cystitis.

Q—I have been to several doctors for my cystitis. Each one tries a different treatment. One says there is no cure. Is this true? Can an emotional upset or physical weakness cause cystitis?

A—Cure is often difficult and may require a period of hospitalization under a urologist who will determine what germ is causing your trouble and what other factors are contributing to its chronicity. Emotional upsets may cause an increased frequency of urination but will not cause a true cystitis and neither will physical weakness.

Q—What foods should be avoided by a person with albumin in the urine due to nephritis? Is there any drug that would be helpful?

A—Proteins must be avoided during the acute stage of nephritis, but as soon as this stage is over and there is a free passage of urine and a return of the appetite liberal amount of protein should be given to overcome the protein deficiency that developed earlier in the course of the disease. You should get a balanced diet, but it is wise to cut down on your intake of salt. A strict attempt to eliminate sodium from your diet, however, is not necessary.

There is no drug that is given specifically to free the urine of albumin. Drugs are given to combat whatever caused the nephritis.

Q—My doctor is giving me nicotinic acid for poor circulation in my feet. Will this correct the trouble or just relieve it? Are there any bad side effects?

A—Nicotinic acid helps to dilate the small arteries in your extremities. Large doses of this vitamin can be taken with safety.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstad, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstad cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Medicare Paperwork Feared

Hospital Costs To Rise

By JIM NICHOLS
Associated Press Writer

When Medicare hits Michigan July 1 the result will be a few more patients and a lot more paperwork, the state's hospital chiefs predict.

One result, many say, could be higher hospital bills for non-Medicare patients.

But the situation varies from hospital to hospital and from city to city, and what's expected in one place may be just the opposite of what's expected somewhere else.

That's what The Associated Press found out in a survey answered by 60 of the state's 180 accredited hospitals.

Some 15 hospital administrators predicted greater demand for beds as a result of the federal aid-to-the-elderly program. Officials of 20 others said they expected little or no increase in patient loads.

Others said they didn't know and wished they did.

Hospitals Jammed Now

The responses indicate little difference between metropolitan hospitals and those in smaller towns. Of the 15 predicting increased demand for beds, eight were in major urban areas. Of the 20 saying things would stay about the same, 13 were in smaller communities.

One reason often cited by those believing there will be no dramatic increase was this: the state's hospitals already are jammed.

But even hospitals expecting steady patient loads predict a dramatic increase in administrative work. Others say they'll have to wait and see.

Twenty-four hospitals, eight of them in major urban areas, said they will face more clerical work. Reed City Hospital predicted an increase of 50 per cent. Petoskey's Little Traverse Hospital said it may add a new accounting department. Many plan to hire added clerical help. Some already have.

Some 11 others said they didn't know what the effect on their paper work will be. It depends, they said, on what the federal government requires them to do.

Other Patients To Pay
If more help is needed, many warned, and if the government doesn't pay the entire additional cost, non-Medicare patients will have to do it through higher hospital bills.

"More clerical help will be required," said John Bay, director of Pennock Hospital, Hastings.

"The Medicare provision regarding separate billing for hospital-based specialists is going to increase the cost of these services because it doubles the billing volumes and problems," he added. "This one provision did a greater disservice to the public than any other."

Most administrators said they'd have to wait and see what the effect of Medicare will be on the under-65 patient. Of those who did venture predictions, most said his bill will go up and he'll have to wait longer to get in.

A very few, like John Rasmussen of Hillsdale Community Health Center, said he might gain.

Bills To Rise
"With full cost reimbursement of the Medicare patient," Rasmussen said, "the private patient may get a better break than he now gets because of less-than-full costs for many indigent patients who will qualify under Medicare."

"The private patient outside the scope of the law will be affected adversely," warned Harold Reed, Clinton Memorial Hospital, St. Johns. "His bills will be higher and the already burdened medical and nursing staffs will have less time to devote to the private patient."

"We expect to break even at best on Medicare patients," Reed said, "and to lose money in most cases. This means that the private-pay patient must subsidize the Medicare patient."

Indecision On Balance
Asked if they expected their hospitals to be better supported because of the federal program, 12 hospitals said yes, 20 said no and nine said they'd have to wait and see.

A couple thought Medicare might cut the annual total of unpaid bills. Others said they hadn't had much trouble in the past collecting from past - 65 patients.

Of the urban hospitals, eight said they'd get more support, nine said they wouldn't, and three didn't know.

A few hospital spokesmen thought Medicare would make things worse.

"While the hospital may be receiving more federal money," said Robert Trautman of Hart's Ocean Hospital, "I doubt that it will be better supported. I think the people of the community will tend to be less and less interested in something they will be losing more and more control of."

Many In Hospitals
"We do not know whether hospitals will be better supported," said Fred A. Hough of the Branch County Community Health Center, Coldwater. "This will depend upon the reimbursement formula, and this formula has not yet been announced."

Most administrators said they did not expect a sudden increase in critical patients, because most of them already are hospitalized. Some looked to nursing homes for relief, but a number noted there was a shortage of nursing beds in their areas.

Cigars were the most important export from the colonies to Great Britain before the Revolution.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Republican leaders may not have to live indefinitely with fears that many badly needed big money boys will defect if the party's right wing is not continuously and warmly cultivated.

That threat has hung over the party since before the prime Goldwater days. Particularly in certain key state races, GOP candidates' views appeared to have been tailored to please—or at least avoided offending—major conservative campaign contributors.

Leaders' constant call for "party unity" is privately acknowledged by some professionals to be, in some part, a response to the real or presumed threat of a money cutoff.

There is evidence today, however, that the threat may not be as great as imagined. There is evidence that at least a fair number of tough-talking conservatives do not put their money where their mouth is.

The evidence is found in a report on 1964 campaign financing by Herbert Alexander, director of the privately funded Citizens' Research Foundation in Princeton, N. J.

A commonplace of Barry Goldwater's presidential campaign from prenomination time on, had it that GOP fat cats would give big only if he were the nominee. This was said to be particularly true in what then was often called "Goldwater country," areas highly favorable to him, which included California, Texas, Illinois and Ohio.

The foundation report shows, however, that on the basis of contributions of $500 or more to national-level presidential committees, the big money types chipped in less in California and Illinois than they did four years earlier for Richard M. Nixon.

In California, 1960 contributions of $500 or more came to 138 for $215,737, while for Goldwater in 1964 there were 173 contributions aggregating $160,288.

In Illinois, the $500-or-more crowd gave Nixon $255,234 and Goldwater just $243,052, though in 1964 this reporter was told

Ann Landers

Anti-Naziism Keeps World In Turmoil

Dear Ann Landers: No bigotry allowed — unless it is yours, right? Usually I don't look at your daily drive but my eye happened to fall on your column about the Nazi flag and I found it nauseating.

I am not saying Buchenwald and Auschwitz were good, but I am sick of anti-Nazi propaganda which is cleverly kept going by international troublemakers who want to see the world in constant turmoil.

If it weren't for two or three stupid blunders, YOU would be speaking German now. Anyone who has any knowledge of history and military tactics will admit that the allies very nearly lost World War II. There was never a more courageous, effective or beautiful military machine than the Nazi machine.

I respect the Nazi philosophy and the whole world ought to respect it, as they respect other philosophies. Your lack of objectivity is shocking, Ann Landers. You sound like a hysterical woman. Wipe the foam off your mouth and stop giving advice.—A.H.

Dear A.H.: Your initials are almost as interesting as your letter. Was YOUR real name Schickelgruber, too?

The Nazi philosophy you ask the world to respect is based on the theory that the Aryan is superior — and by virtue of that superiority, he has the right to rule the world and eliminate, at will, all inferior breeds of mankind.

Moreover, the Nazi philosophy which you admire so greatly, does not tolerate any religious beliefs. The state is god, and dedication to the state must be total. Consequently many Lutherans and Catholics died along with millions of Jews because they refused to forsake their religion.

Under Nazism the individual counts for nothing. It is the State Über Alles. All industrial, business and professional people — physicians, lawyers, engineers, scientists and artists — were under the thumb of Der Führer.

If the Nazi philosophy is your idea of perfection you must find life in the United States intolerable. But cheer up, A.H., I have a heartening note for you. You are not alone in your beliefs. I was surprised (and chided) to discover that hundreds of others in this country share your barbarous ideas. We Americans who believe in the dignity of man and a free society had best not be complacent. We COULD be taken by surprise.

Thank you for writing. You have given me a great deal to think about.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell us what to do about our 16-year-old daughter. She is a nervous wreck. Elsie (not her real name) has gained about 10 pounds in the last few months. She was too thin and the doctor put her on a special diet. Someone at school started the rumor that she is pregnant. The girl doesn't want to show her face.

The big problem is that Elsie says she is not going back to her high school in the fall. She wants to go live with her aunt in Omaha and graduate from high school there.

Please give us some of your sound advice. We need it. — M AND D

Dear M and D: Please tell Elsie that the best way to explode the lie is to stay in town and go back to her school in the fall. If you allow your daughter to run from the situation, her absence will give credulity to the gossip and she will never be comfortable with her friends and classmates again. Don't let her do it.

Confidential to First Time To Be Called Mother: Your life is certainly no paradise in dreamland, but whose is? My advice is to keep your home together and manage as best you can. Don't exchange one set of problems for another.

And now, Lady, about that niece of yours — do you believe her? A girl who has such shoddy morals could also be a liar.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 25c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

UPCAP Asked To Up Local Funds In Aid Program

The Upper Peninsula Committee For Area Progress delegate body met in the State Office Building today for annual election of officers and to consider more Upper Peninsula financing for the activities it has undertaken as an agent for the federal Economic Development Administration.

UPCAP was organized as an Upper Peninsula economic development agency under the sponsorship of Michigan State University in 1961, with 14 of the 15 U.P. counties participating and Marquette abstaining.

The quarterly report of Joseph Tuma, acting executive director, for the executive committee, was to report the expected early approval by the Economic Development Agency of a $318,000 EDA technical assistance project for UPCAP.

The EDA would grant $189,077 of the financing to UPCAP, which would undertake to raise the other 37 per cent of the project cost from area sources. The increase in sponsor share from 25 per cent is a new dimension in UPCAP's relationship with federal agencies of the War on Poverty and calls upon the U.P. organization to obtain much more local financial support.

UPCAP started 5 years ago with a total contribution of only $3,000 in cash from the member counties, although they spent more than that in support of the agency. The counties' contribution is still in that range while UPCAP has ballooned its staff to about 20 persons and an annual budget of more than $250,000. Its chief function is to provide technical assistance to federal agencies with Upper Peninsula programs most of them in the economic opportunity program.

The EDA program which UPCAP is seeking as a mainstay of this year's activities would have three phases: 1. To assist local agencies with public works project processing. 2. To assist private organizations with EDA loans and technical services to increase production and stimulate the economy. 3. To act in cooperation with the Extension services, schools, social service agencies, welfare departments and other organizations on projects in better housing, health, and other human resource fields.

A planned highlight of today's program was a report by David Abraham of W. B. Saunders Co. of Washington on the inter-penninsula study of Michigan transportation which the company will make for the EDA. It was recently awarded a $57,000 contract for the study of transportation in the 33 northernmost counties of Michigan.

Most of the Upper Peninsula's commerce moves through Wisconsin and north across the Straits of Mackinac into Lower Michigan.

Officers of UPCAP who were up for re-election included: Harold Dettman, St. Ignace, chairman; Lynn Sandberg, L'Anse, vice chairman; Harold Vanierberghe, Escanaba, acting secretary; and Fred H. Hahne, Manistiquie, treasurer.

Reds Slip In Italian Voting

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro's Catholic-Socialist coalition emerged from scattered local elections with a prestige boost today after smashing Communist hopes of becoming the strongest party in the city of Rome. It was the last extensive election before the parliamentary elections in 1968.

The Communists lost ground in the nation's capital for the first time since the war in a major election. Backers of the center-left coalition claimed the growth of the Communist party — second largest in Italy — had been arrested.

Although the coalition partners — Christian Democrats, Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans — gained support in Rome and elsewhere, the Communists showed they were still formidable vote-getters. Their votes continued to rise in areas where they have become the single biggest party but where they sometimes lack controlling majorities because of the center-left alliance.

The Reds lost badly in Rome, where they were within 18,000 votes of the dominant Christian Democrats two years ago. They trailed the Christian Democrats by more than 78,000 votes — 437,945 to 359,571 — and the center-left win assured control of the 80-man Municipal Council with 41 seats.

INFORMATION by the truckload goes out from the Upper Michigan Tourist Association office at Iron Mountain. Pictured are Mrs. Doris Williams and Mrs. Cheryl Williams of the UMTA staff after finishing processing of a truckload of 3,500 Fun Pacs of UMTA tourist literature going to persons who read advertisements of the Michigan Tourist Council, of which UMTA is a member, and UMTA's own advertising campaign.

Tourist Literature Floods

Fun Pacs By Truckload

A good tourist season for the Upper Peninsula is forecast by Ken Dorman manager of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, on basis of inquiries originating from the Michigan State Tourist Council's program and received at the UMTA office, Iron Mountain. For the first four months of this year, the inquiries are up about 22 per cent over last year's record number.

The annual cooperative newspaper advertising project of the Association and the Mackinac Bridge Authority is showing increased public interest in U.P. touring said Dorman. First advertisements in 20 metropolitan area newspapers appeared in mid-May.

The cost of UMTA funds, not including staff expenses, for one mailing of 3,500 Fun Pacs was about $1,200 for literature and mailers and another $400 in postage.

"This investment should pay dividends for the Upper Peninsula economy because studies have verified that approximately 70 per cent of the people who write in for information will ultimately visit the Peninsula," said Dorman.

"When you apply the average expenditures of such vacation parties, this one truckload of mail should pump approximately three quarters of a million dollars in new revenue into our region."

While the tourist inquiry mail answering service is now at its peak with two similar advertising programs to follow in the latter part of June and July, according to Dorman, the answering of mail goes on day in and day out through the year, from a low of a few hundred inquiries a week during the Christmas holidays to a peak of almost 5,000 a week.

Wars On Rats In Viet Nam

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Marine Cpl. Norman K. Mims of Jacksonville hopes to reduce the rodent population of South Viet Nam.

Mims wrote the Jacksonville postmaster, asking for some rat traps.

"I have used everything from a slingshot to electricity to get rid of the rats and don't seem to be getting anywhere," Mims wrote. "Viet Nam has very few cats. I have seen only one, and some of the rats are bigger than he was."

"I would like to try just a plain old rat trap. I would like to have eight of the biggest ones you have."

Arthur F. Whittier, assistant postmaster and an ex-Marine, said he knew what Mims was up against because of his experiences in Guam during World War II.

Whittier bought eight traps and sent them along to Mims, with his compliments.

Prenuptial Reception Honors Luci And Pat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The happy sounds of partying echoed through the staid marble hall of the Supreme Court building at a pre-nuptial reception honoring Luci Johnson and Patrick J. Nugent.

Justice and Mrs. Tom C. Clark were hosts at the party Monday night for Luci, daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson, and her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry P. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill.

"It was like old home week" for the President and longtime family friends, said Mrs. Johnson's press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter.

The 300 guests included some of Washington's top officials and Luci's friends — from her piano teacher and school chums to the Catholic priest who will marry the couple Aug. 6.

Nobody could remember any time when the high court's imposing edifice had been used to fete a bride-to-be, although it has been used for social occasions by justices.

Luci, wearing a white lace dress slightly above the knees with elbow-length sleeves, stood in a receiving line in the main hall just outside the court chamber with her hosts, her fiancé, her mother and Nugent's parents.

The President arrived after most of the guests assembled. He signed autographs for Luci's bridesmaids and schoolmates and mingled with old friends —

Ky Forces Get Tough On Mobs

SAIGON, SOUTH Viet Nam (AP) — Government security forces, with orders to give no quarter, laid virtual siege to the Buddhist Institute today. With pistol shots and tear gas charges they choked off dozens of demonstrators after a mob burned three Jeeps and grabbed two submachine guns from American Military Police.

Told to arrest draft-aged demonstrators on the spot and send them off to military service, troops and riot police carted away scores. Some were clubbed, kicked and beaten.

Four hundred miles to the north the chief of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's Buddhist antagonists, Thich (venerable) Tri Quang, was in the seventh day of an anti-American, anti-government hunger strike. An aide said his condition was "weakening and very serious."

The first ship sailed through the Suez Canal in 1867.

School Millage Carries; Marshall On Area Board

School electors in Delta and Schoolcraft counties gave overwhelming endorsement Monday of a levy of one mill to finance a special education program for the handicapped children of the two-county Intermediate School District.

While the proposition was to levy one mill, there were assurances that initially only one-half mill will be needed to finance the program.

The unofficial figures indicated the special education proposal carried about two to one. In the Escanaba Area Public School district there was more than usual interest in a contest for the one four-year term on the Board of Education. The Area district includes Escanaba city and the townships of Wells, Cornell and Ford River.

Marvin Marshall of 1415 1st Ave. S. was elected to the Board, defeating incumbent Carlton Olsen of Willow Creek Road. Olsen sought a second four-year term.

Marshall received 1,115 votes and Olsen 947, according to the unofficial returns.

A lands staff forester with the U.S. Forest Service, Marshall has been a resident of Escanaba for seven years. He is a native of Missouri, has been with the Forest Service for 28 years, and is the father of six children.

In the Escanaba Area School District the special education millage proposal received better than two-to-one support — 1,216 yes to 592 no votes.

The Flat Rock School voters elected Harold Chenier to the Board of Education for a term of three years. The vote: Chenier 69, Mary Ellen Jensen 28 and Edward Solis 46.

The 3.3 mills to bring the District's millage rate up so that full state aid will be obtained was approved 95 to 49.

The 1 mill for a special education program in Delta and Schoolcraft counties also was approved in Flat Rock 113 to 27.

In Bark River, Leo Gatten, without opposition, received 214 votes to put him on the School Board for four years. John Blomierz was elected to complete the one year unexpired term, due to the resignation of Andy Barr. He defeated Phil Norman 94 to 51. The special education millage passed 186 to 73.

Jerrold Beevar, Gladstone, ran unopposed and received 313 votes. The special one mill, 240 to 82. The extra millage up to 4 mills received 240 yes and 82 no votes.

In Rapid River school district the proposition for millage received 15 yes, 19 no in Bay de Noc Township; 42 yes, 15 no in Ensign; and 107 yes, 51 no in Masonville. For the four year terms to the school board Billy W. Larsen, Rapid River, Stanley Dominich, and Lloyd Brannstrom of Ensign were candidates. Bay de Noc voted as follows: Larsen 17, Dominich 17, Brannstrom 30. Ensign voted: Larsen 31, Dominich 30, Brannstrom 48. Masonville voted: Larsen 131, Dominich 70, Brannstrom 101.

Heat Kills 353 In East India

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — At least 353 persons have died in a 10-day heat wave in the eastern Indian states of West Bengal and Bihar, and officials fear the toll may be much higher in rural areas where many deaths aren't reported.

The temperature hits 120 degrees daily in many areas. No relief is in sight. Thousands of cattle and other livestock have been killed, and the drought has seared badly needed crops.

Some 300 miles to the northeast, in Assam State, the flooding Brahmaputra River has driven hundreds of thousands from their homes. Vast areas of rice, vegetables and jute have been ruined.

In the Sylhet region of East Pakistan, adjoining Assam, official reports said 12 persons had been drowned.

Residents of more than 450 villages in the Chhatrak District were reported living on their rooftops, fending off hundreds of poisonous snakes driven from their holes by the water.

Five State Men Victims Of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Michigan men were named Monday in the latest casualty list released by the Defense Department.

Killed in action were Army Sgt. Dewey Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Mary Ferguson, Mount Clemens; Army Spec. 4 Charles Shelton, son of Mr. Henry Stanley, Detroit; Marine Cpl. Stanley Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Tyler, Troy; and Marine Pfc. Larry Wington, son of Mrs. Eleanor Kinney, East Detroit.

Marine Pvt. Terence Tangen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tangen, Mount Clemens, died of wounds.

Hospital Gown For Graduation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mace Goodman, 17, wore a gown at his high school graduation, but it wasn't the traditional one—it was a hospital gown.

Since the youth, who broke his leg and dislocated his shoulder in a motorcycle accident June 8, couldn't go to the graduation ceremonies, the ceremonies were brought to him.

Fellow students at Hollywood Professional School—many of them film and television actors—crowded into the surgical amphitheater at UCLA's White Memorial Hospital Monday for the graduation ceremonies.

Garden School District voted in 5 mills for 2 years, 113 yes and 55 no. Dale Carley and Dale Watchorn were elected to four year terms on the school board and Charles Rasmussen was elected to the two year term.

Brampton Township School District voted the mill for special education 29-14, and voted a new levy of 1 1/4 mills for 5 years for school operation, 30 to 13, to make a total of 10 mills and assure full state aid.

Board Secretary Walter VanDeWeghe reported that two unopposed board members were re-elected for 3 year terms. Walter Palmquist, 41, and Raymond Tackman, 40, and that Ernest Heitman got 38 votes unopposed for election to an unexpired term of 2 years. He had been appointed a month ago.

Baldwin Township voted in favor of the mill for special education 48 to 36. It also voted in favor, 59 to 28, of a 3 mill levy for 5 years for operation of the township's schools. This is 2 mills renewal and one mill new.

The township voters, said Supt. Joseph Vestich, were very generous to education as they voted only a few weeks ago for a three mill levy for township road improvement, 107 to 20.

Baldwin re-elected to four year terms without opposition Mrs. Kathleen LaChance, 67, and Girard VanDamme, 56. Alvin Robbins, 49, was elected to an unexpired one year term over Mrs. Winona Smith, 36, who had been appointed to the board of education office.

In Maple Ridge (Rock) Emil Lund ran without opposition; the 1 1/2 mill proposal passed 36 to 12 and the special millage for the intermediate school district passed 33 to 14.

In Nahma, Alvin Pomeroy with 69 votes and Madeline Turek with 58 votes, won four year terms on the school board. Opal Gearheart won a one year term. The proposal for five mills operating expenses passed 38 to 33. The one mill for special education received 46 yes and 26 no.

Schoolcraft County school districts also endorsed the special education millage. The vote was 474 yes to 186 no.

Special millage proposals for 6 mills in Inwood and 3 mills in Germfask also passed.

Re-elected without opposition were, in Hiawatha Township, Jack Swanson and William Graf, in Mueller Township, Donald Tuttle and William Weber, in Manistique, George W. Rasmussen and William Tufnell, in Inwood, Bernard Lund and Heman Staffier, in Thompson, Henry Smith and Lorraine Albrecht, and in Germfask, Jean Luddella, Shay Leonard and Thurman Skarritt Sr.

The City of Manistique gave Mrs. Margaret Waters 258 votes and Nels Denton 271. Doyle Township elected Grace Jackson and Robert McCarney.

Seek Halt To Draft Evasion

WARWICK, R.I. (AP) — The Rhode Island Amvets have voiced support for efforts to halt young Americans from fleeing to Canada to escape the draft.

The veterans voted to support the stand of Ralph E. Hall, national commander, who has urged an immediate meeting between officials of the two nations to discuss "closing loopholes in Canadian law that permits U.S. citizens to flee to Canada to escape military service without fear of extradition."

In the hospital are Samuel Anderson, 71, Thompson, in fair condition, and his wife, Elmira, who suffered a broken arm.

Heavy Drinkers Include 12% Of American Adults

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Twelve per cent of American adults are heavy drinkers, says a nationwide survey.

You are a heavy drinker, says Dr. Ira Cisin, if you have one drink almost daily, or if you down at least five drinks in one session once a week.

Cisin's survey, sponsored by the National Institute of Mental Health and based on 2,750 interviews, was disclosed Sunday at a symposium on drugs and alcohol at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Generally, says Cisin, a professor of sociology at George Washington University, more drinkers reside in New England and the Middle Atlantic states. Residents of Pacific Coast states are in third place while, proportionately, the fewest drinkers are found in the Deep South.

Cisin also found more men drink than women, most drinkers are in their 20- and 30s, of higher income groups and live in cities and suburbs.

More Episcopalian, Catholics and Jews drink than Baptists and others of religious groups which disapprove of drinking, he added.

Court Accused Of Taking Risk In Crime Fight

County Sheriff C. W. Young declared: "It's getting to the point where we can't even use a confession if a person wants to confess."

Young and Reno Police Chief Elmer Briscoe said the high court already had hampered law enforcement and, Briscoe added, "This decision emphasizes it more."

In Houston, Tex., Assistant Police Chief George Seber said police "will be greatly hindered in solving crimes where there have been no witnesses. You might as well burn up the books on the science of police investigation."

The city's district attorney, Carol Vance, said the decision "certainly would appear to hamper the job the police have."

E. L. Giles, Fort Worth deputy police chief, said "it seems to me the courts are making it impossible for a person to plead guilty."

"All the emphasis has been on guaranteeing a man his rights, particularly against self-incrimination, and it is our hope and prayer that the courts some day give the same consideration to the public."

Murder Charged

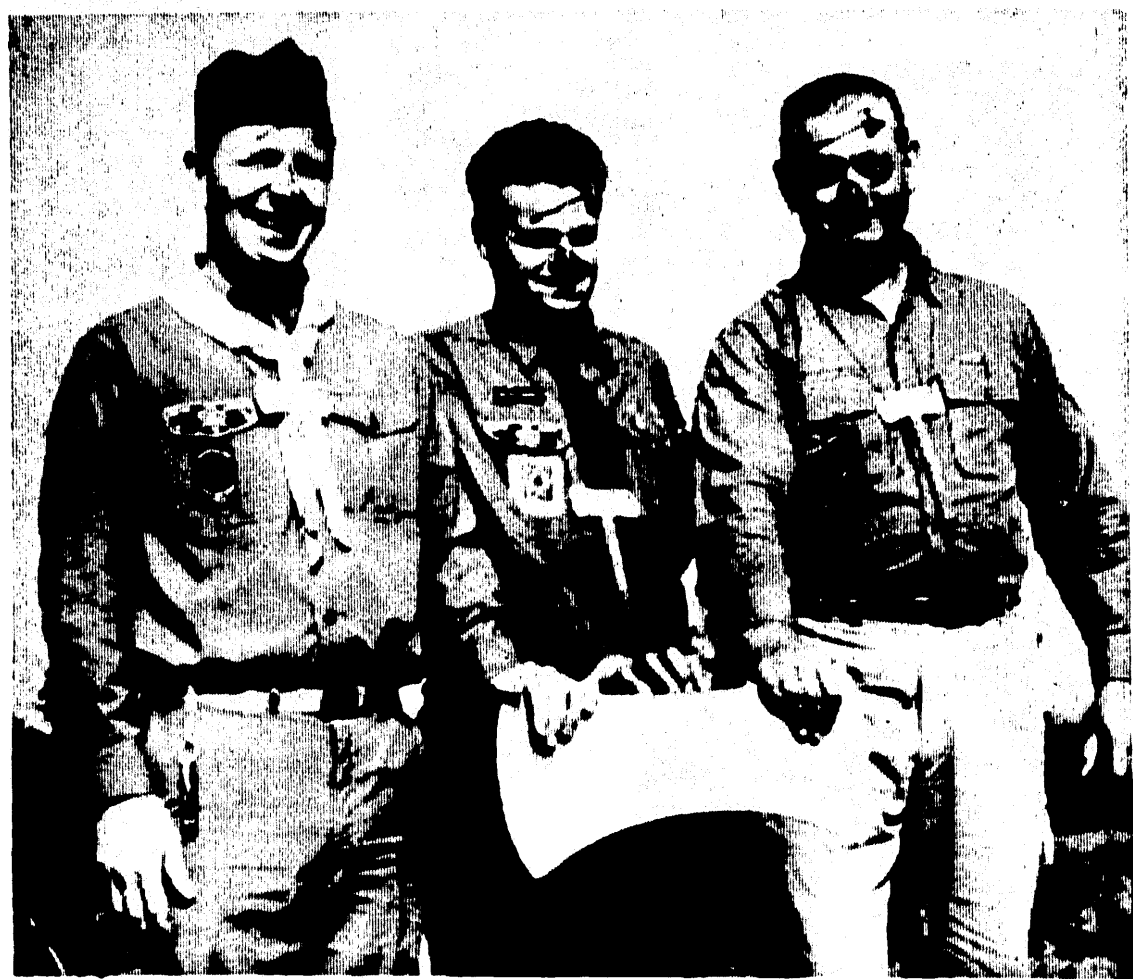

DETROIT (AP) — Mirko Smilkovich, 26, of Detroit, was held for trial Monday on a charge of first degree murder in the killing of a cousin with whom he reportedly has quarreled for many years. The daughter of Juro Smilkovski, 41, of Dearborn, accused the defendant in court of shooting her father May 30 after refusing to shake hands and end an argument which began in Yugoslavia.

MTU Plans Cover Inter-Discipline Work, Expansion

A program on plans of accommodate the expected 9,000 enrollment. The university began as a mining school, then became a general engineering school. Because it is a state school, it has special responsibilities to the area. It has been training surveyor aids, sawyers, lumber graders and sawmill operators under the Manpower Development and Training program, on a tri-state basis. It has emphasized technical training.

Its basic education also has been expanded, providing associate degree programs, and the first years of liberal arts. Addition of liberal arts to the curriculum of the engineering and science school permits dialogue between the various disciplines. What is technically possible as a problem solver, may not be sociologically acceptable, Dr. Williams explained, citing that birth control is a method of population control but may not be sociologically acceptable.

The research program will be directed toward aiding economy of the area and training research people. The enlarged university program will include a drawing together of some disciplines. For example, a natural resource program can include forestry, mining and geology.

Total cost of the building program for the enrollment increase will be $40 to $60 million.

BETTY JEAN HAINDL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haindl Jr. Cooks, received a bachelor of science degree at Michigan State University June 1. She majored in child development and teaching.

Seek Ban For 'Black Sambo'

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Two Negro groups plan to ask the Seattle Library Board to take the book, "Little Black Sambo," from its shelves, says Kevé Bray, executive director of the Central Area Action Committee.

The book "is derogatory to the Negro and it strongly suggests inferiority to the Negroes," Bray said Monday. He said his committee and the Washington State Negro Historical Society will make the request.

The book is a children's fable about a native boy's adventure with tigers in the jungle.

Asks State Exchange:

CCI Seeking Mine Lands

Exchange of 80 acres of state-owned land in Marquette County with the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. for 214 acres of private land in Houghton and Chippewa counties will be considered by the Michigan Conservation Commission at its monthly meeting in Lansing next Thursday and Friday.

This is the second segment of a three-way exchange in which CCI would acquire the Houghton and Chippewa lands from third parties to exchange with the state so that the company could further consolidate its ownership in connection with expansion of the Empire Mine project.

The 80 acres in Marquette County consist of two parcels — 40 acres near Green Creek south of Palmer and another 40 acres a short distance east of Goose Lake. CCI says these lands are needed for the enlargement of tailing basin expansion at a future date.

The land offered to the state consists of 114 acres in Houghton County and 100 acres in Chippewa County. The Houghton County tract would allow public access to Rabbit Bay and Lake Superior. The state frontage on Lake Superior is now isolated.

The commission also will be asked to approve a proposed exchange of 40 acres in Chippewa County owned by Andrew A. Lucas of Kinross for an equal amount of state-owned land in the same county. The Conservation Department says the exchange is mutually beneficial in consolidation of ownership of both private and state interests.

Prompted by increasing requests from surface owners to purchase reserved mineral rights from the state, the Conservation Department's Lands Division is recommending that the commission adopt a more liberalized policy regarding sales of these rights in small, isolated parcels and platted lots.

Since 1909, when it became mandatory to reserve mineral rights in the sale of tax-reverted lands, more than 2,000.00 acres of such rights have been retained and are now held by the state. Many of the lands which were of low value when sold are now desirable for industrial, commercial and resort developments, as well as for residential and agricultural purposes. Mortgage commitments for surface improvements are nearly always refused unless unencumbered title can be obtained, and as a result surface owners in increasing numbers are asking for an opportunity to purchase reserved mineral rights from the state.

Consumers Cites REA High Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Michigan electric utility executive complained today of what he said was cut-rate competition by cooperatives using government-subsidized loans.

The complaint was voiced by Birum Campbell, vice president of Consumers Power Company, in testimony prepared for the House Agricultural Committee. Campbell is opposing creation of a Federal Electric Bank. Campbell said existing Rural Electrification Administration (REA) loans are available at 2 per cent and are adequate for any reasonable expansion of electric distribution cooperatives.

Some rural cooperatives, he said, already are making cut-rate raids on municipalities in competition with investor-owned utilities.

Over the past 15 years, Campbell testified, seven distribution cooperatives in Michigan paid

$5,878,000 more for electric power supplied by generating and transmission co-ops than they would have had they bought electricity from Consumers Power.

Campbell said the average cost of energy purchased by Michigan REA borrowers from generating and transmission co-ops is second highest in the nation, with only New Hampshire higher.

Sweden Bars U.S. Munition Buying

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Munitions trade sources say the Swedish government has turned down repeated United States requests to buy Swedish arms and ammunition for the use of American forces in Viet Nam.

Harvard Prof. John Galbraith, former U.S. ambassador to India, said in Providence, R.I.,

"Sweden . . . has thought so little of our (Viet Nam) policy that she has imposed an arms embargo—a quarantine—upon us."

There has been no official confirmation of the reports in Washington or Stockholm.

Official Swedish policy forbids arms sales to any nation involved or about to be involved in foreign or domestic conflicts. The embargo currently applies to Communist and Arab nations, Israel, Spain, Portugal and South Africa, trade sources say.

Auto Builders End '66 Year

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry headed today into the final weeks of production of its 1966 models with tooling for 1967 models due to begin shortly.

Lincoln-Continental and Thunderbird were the first lines to finish their 1966 output as both wound up work late last week. The first General Motors unit to phase out will be the Willow Run, Mich., plant which will end its 1966 model work tomorrow.

Chevrolet's 10 plants will be down from a month to 10 weeks for the model changeover. Last year, the shutdowns averaged 3½ weeks.

This time, however, Chevrolet is making a more extensive switchover as it plans to revise its production lines considerably. This was caused by the fact that it will introduce a new sporty car in its 1967 line as competition for Ford's Mustang.

Ford was the only firm to work overtime on auto production last week. It had four plants on premium pay operations Saturday.

June production schedules called for an industry output of 822,000 cars which would be the second highest June on record. The high mark of 899,876 was set last year.

On a calendar year basis, the industry built 4,403,007 cars through last Saturday, about 200,000 units behind the output in the comparable period last year.

On a model year basis, 1966 continued to run ahead, however. The current year's figures through last Saturday were 7,610,941 compared with 7,357,317 at this stage of the 1965 model run.

Segregation Is Hit By Leader Of Methodists

GROSSE POINTE (AP) — Bishop Dwight E. Loder, head of the Methodist Church in Michigan, told an all-white Grosse Pointe congregation Sunday a segregated church separates itself entirely from the Christian church.

Speaking at the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, Bishop Loder denied pressures of conservative members influenced transfer of the Rev. James D. Nixon from that church to State Street Methodist Church in Saginaw.

The Rev. Perry Thomas of Flint reportedly will succeed the Rev. Mr. Nixon in Grosse Pointe.

Both Thomas and Nixon were failed in Jackson Miss., in 1963 when they tried to integrate a Methodist church.

While declining to name Nixon's successor, Bishop Loder said "it will be clear that he stands in the same tradition of human relations as Jim Nixon."

Rojas Uses Come-Get-It Pitch To Baffle Batters

By The Associated Press
Minnie Rojas' "come out and get it" pitch has American League hitters biting off more than they can chew.

The rookie California pitcher, who has been accused of showing up Stu Miller as a speed-merchant, blanked Chicago for six innings Monday night as the Angels salvaged a doubleheader split by edging the White Sox 2-1.

Rojas has started two games and won both since his call-up from the Angels' Seattle farm club last month while compiling a sharp 1.35 earned run average in seven appearances over-all. He also has alienated opposing hitters with his teasing delivery. "He's got three pitches — slower and 'come out and get it,'" one frustrated slugger has said of the 27-year-old right-hander, whom the Angels purchased from a Mexican League club earlier in the year for the bargain price of $2,500.

"How can he expect to pitch up here with junk like that," muttered another hitter recently after a losing battle with Rojas' change-up.

The White Sox, who had won the rain-delayed first game 5-1, reached Rojas for only four hits and no runs until the seventh inning. Then, after making J. C. Martin his sixth strikeout victim, Rojas gave up a single to Sox newcomer Jerry Adair, hit Floyd Robinson with a pitch and walked Smoky Burgess, filling the bases.

Bob Lee then replaced Rojas and got out of the jam when left fielder Willie Smith grabbed John Romano's liner and doubled Adair at the plate with a rifle throw.

Elsewhere, Frank Robinson's three-run homer and a two-run shot by Brooks Robinson led Baltimore past New York 8-0. Detroit nipped Washington 4-3 and Minnesota divided a twin-night bill with Kansas City, dropping the opener 5-2 before rebounding in the second game 6-1. The Boston-Cleveland game was rained out.

Philadelphia swept a doubleheader from Atlanta 6-2 and 6-4. New York beat St. Louis 5-2 in the first game of a twin-nighter but bowed 4-1 in the second. San Francisco blanked Chicago 8-0. Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 5-4 and Houston topped Los Angeles 9-6 in 11 innings in National League play.

Frank Malzone gave Rojas a 1-0 lead with a fifth-inning homer, then singled in the ninth and scored on Bobby Knoop's triple. That run proved to be the winner when the White Sox scored in the last of the ninth.

Jack Lamabe stopped the Angels on five hits in the first game, running his record to 4-2, while Don Buford led the Chicago attack with a run-scoring single and three-run double. The victory ended a five-game losing string for the White Sox.

Buford collected five hits in the doubleheader and Adair, traded to the Sox from Baltimore Sunday for reliever Eddie Fisher, had four.

Baltimore's rampaging Robinsons powered the Orioles to their 13th victory in the last 16 games while Jim Palmer and reliever Eddie Watt shackled the Yankees on three hits. Frank Robinson smashed his 16th homer in the third inning off loser Al Downing and Brooks Robinson hit No. 10 in the seventh off Pedro Ramos.

The Tigers broke a 3-3 tie in the eighth on singles by Jim Northrup and Bill Freehan and Gates' Brown's sacrifice fly, enabling Dave Wickersham to gain his third victory without a loss. The Senators, who have lost eight in a row, had tied the score in the seventh on a two-run homer by pinch hitter Don Lock.

Sports In Brief

MONTREAL (AP)—Ten new members, including former Detroit Red Wings forward Ted Lindsay, will be inducted into hockey's Hall of Fame Aug. 27.

INDIAN RIVER (AP)—Five classes of stock outboard racing boats will compete in the 87-mile Top O'Michigan Marathon July 10. The race will be run through Mullet, Burt and Crooked Lakes and Cheboygan, Indian and Crooked Rivers.

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Joyce Kazmierski of Detroit, last year's runner-up, placed seventh among qualifiers of the Trans-Mississippi Women's Amateur Golf Tournament Monday. She shot 38-41-79. Patti Shook of Saginaw, Mich., was 23rd among qualifiers with 42-39-81. Mrs. Donna Gilliam of Whittier, Calif., led with a one-under-par 37-34-71.

Tigers Acquire Boston Pitcher

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers today traded outfielder Don Demeter to the Boston Red Sox for right-handed pitcher Earl Wilson.

In addition, Boston assigned outfielder Joe Christopher to the Tigers' Triple-A farm club at Syracuse. Detroit will assign a player later to Boston's minor league team in Toronto.

Tiger spokesmen said the trades involved no money. Both players are 30-years-old. Wilson, with the Red Sox since 1962, has a 5-5 record this season and an earned run average of 3.83. In 1965 he was named Boston's most valuable pitcher, leading the club in victories with 13 and in starts with 36.

Wilson is expected to report to the Tigers tonight for the game with Washington in Detroit.

Demeter, acquired by the Tigers from Philadelphia in 1963, holds the major league record for most games without an error (266) and has a .212 batting average this year.

He will report to Boston Wednesday.

HELPING HAND — It appears that Curt Blefary (3) of the Baltimore Orioles and Brooks Robinson (5) have a balancing act as a sidelight. Actually, Brooks is trying to avoid a collision in left field and Blefary is helping him.

Ralston Tunes For Wimbledon

LONDON (AP)—Dennis Ralston, leading American contender for next week's Wimbledon tennis tournament, tuned up Monday with a 6-3, 7-5 victory over Japan's Osamu Ishiguro — but he was way below his best form.

The Davis Cup star from Bakersfield, Calif., hit some devastating backhands but also plenty of careless shots in reaching the second round of the London's Queen Club tournament — the last event before Wimbledon.

The Wimbledon seeds are scheduled to be announced today, with the draw Wednesday. The Queen's Club courts were slow after rain. Several world stars, anxious for practice on English grass played erratic tennis — and Ralston was one of them.

Cliff Richey of Dallas, America's only other serious male hope for Wimbledon had to struggle all the way to overcome Daniel Contet of France 7-5, 6-8, 6-4 in the second round. Each had a bye in the first round.

Even the Australian stars were off form. Roy Emerson, reigning Wimbledon champion, made heavy work of defeating the big South African left-hander Abe Segal 1-6, 16-14, 6-1. Fred Stolle, runner-up at Wimbledon for the last three years, fumbled through to a 7-5, 6-3 win against Belgium's Claud de Gronckel.

Other Americans to get through the first round were Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., who defeated Francisco Guzman of Ecuador 6-6, 6-3 and Davis Cupper Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., who struggled to overcome Clay Iles of Britain 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

In the second round, Bill Hoogs of Berkeley, Calif., downed Britain's Graham Stilwell 4-6, 6-3, 7-5 and Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, hammered Bernard Montreux of France 6-1, 6-1.

Houston Signs Draft Choice

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Astros have signed Richard Lynn, third baseman from Edwardsville, Ill., who was their seventh selection in the recent free agent draft, the National League club said Monday.

Lynn, 18, is the fifth of the top nine draft selections the Astros have signed this year, a spokesman said.

Tiger Tales

DETROIT (AP)—Acting Manager Bob Swift was reminded of two other incidents involving hit batsmen on questionable plays after Don Lock was hit Monday night.

"I remember once when Dom Dimaggio was hit and broke his little finger," Swift said. "The umpire ruled it was a foul ball."

"Then, down in the minors, Hoot Evers caught a pitch on the lower part of his thumb and you could see the bone break through the skin. Johnny Groth was sent in to run for Evers but was waived back. That was ruled a foul, too. It was the damndest thing I ever saw," Swift said.

The hospital report on Don Wert is that he has an acute upper respiratory infection. He is running a temperature but feels good and is not in serious condition.

The Tigers said it is hoped he will be able to join the team this weekend in New York.

Don't ask Washington Manager Gil Hodges about close games.

None of the Senators' eight losses in their current string has been by more than three runs — including the no-hitter Cleveland's Sonny Siebert hurled against them.

The Senators are 9-11 in one-run decisions and 6-8 in two-run games.

Washington first baseman Bob Chance looked like he was playing for the Tigers for a while.

Chance, who struck out three times in four trips, cut off Jim King's throw to the plate after Dick McAuliffe's single in the fifth inning, allowing Ray Oyler to score the second run.

The hit was not deep and it appeared any play at the plate would be close.

In the sixth inning, Gates Brown was picked off first as he tried to steal second but continued toward the bag and was safe when Chance's throw was wide.

Red Sox Get Starter In Kansas City Swap

BOSTON (AP)—The lowly Boston Red Sox and the Kansas City Athletics, striving to trade their way up in the American League standings, have completed a six-player swap which involved an outfielder and two pitchers from each team.

The Red Sox, seeking a starting pitcher, acquired right-hander Rolie Sheldon, relief pitcher John Wyatt and outfielder Jose Tartabull in Monday night's trade which came just 48 hours before the Wednesday midnight trading deadline.

The Athletics received outfielder Jim Gosger and a pair of relief pitchers—Ken Sanders, who was drafted from Kansas City last winter, and Guido Grilli, a left-hander who boasts a 3-0 record with Boston's Toronto farm team in the International League.

Just four days ago, the Athletics completed a multiplayer swap with the New York Yankees, picking up pitchers Bill Stafford and Gil Blanco and outfielder Roger Repoz in exchange for pitcher Fred Talbot and left-handed hitting catcher Bill Bryan.

Blanco was assigned to the A's Southern League farm club at Mobile. The Red Sox recently traded its one-time relief ace, Dick Radatz, to the Cleveland Indians for pitchers Don McMahon and Lee Stange.

Wyatt, 31, worked in 81 games last year. This season he was 0-3, having lost his No. 1 relief job.

Sheldon, a Red Sox nemesis since he started with the New York Yankees, was 4-7 with the Athletics this year. He was traded to Kansas City in 1965.

popular Gosger, who earned their admiration by his hustle. The left-handed hitting center fielder was batting .254 at Boston and had 16 runs batted in.

In Tartabull, Boston acquired a speedy outfielder for center field, a defensive weak spot for several seasons. The Cuban-born outfielder was hitting .238 with the A's.

Sanders was the surprise of the Red Sox pitching corps in his first few relief appearances this season. But he had taken his lumps in recent weeks, ballooning to a 3.75 earned run average.

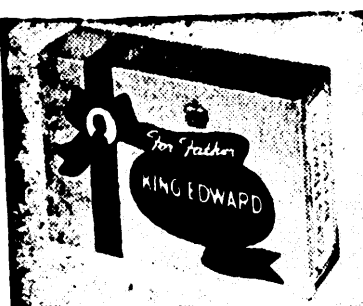

Grilli started the season with Boston where he had an 0-2 record before being optioned to Toronto. The Athletics said he would be recalled immediately.

Insurance Sets Early Pace In Babe Ruth Ball

Insurance is the early leader in the Escanaba Babe Ruth baseball league with a 3-0 record, the only undefeated team in the circuit.

Kiwanis is second with a 2-1 mark and Bankers are 1-1 to round out the top division. Harnischfeger, Teamsters and Mead have all won one and lost two.

League secretary Fred Gravelle states that the league looks better than the current standings would indicate and that teams are playing good ball for this early in the season. "There have been few errors, the pitching has been weak and hitting is improving. I expect the standings to tighten up as the season progresses."

In their first start this week, Manager Pete Ross's Insurance players cemented their grip on first place in the league race by tripping Teamsters, 4-1.

Peter Ross fired a two hitter, fanned 16 batters and gave up five walks for the mound decision. Kim Oliver swatted three hits in four trips off John Moberg, Teamster chucker who gave up seven hits, walked five and fanned 11.

Heads-Up Base Running Pays Off

Tigers Nip Senators

DETROIT (AP) — Heads-up base running by Jim Northrup and a season-high strikeout performance from the least likely source — Dave Wicksham — kept the Tigers in the thick of the pennant race Monday night.

Northrup hesitated, then continued on to third on Bill Freehan's single in the eighth inning and scored the winning run on Gates Brown's sacrifice fly in the ninth.

Bragan's Fears Are Justified

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — One night last April Bobby Bragan stood behind the batting cage before a game against the Philadelphia Phillies and observed: "That John Quinn never sits still."

Bragan, the manager of the Atlanta Braves, had just heard about the deal in which the Phillies obtained pitchers Bob Buhl and Larry Jackson from the Chicago Cubs for three players.

"That might just give them the pennant," Bragan mumbled. Monday night, those words came back to haunt Bragan as his Braves bumped against the Phillies in a two-night doubleheader. The Phillies won both games, 6-2 and 6-4.

The winning pitchers: Jackson and Buhl.

Quinn, the Phillies' general manager, sat in his private box looking like the cat who ate the canary.

He has been accused of starting a home for aged with Jackson, 35; Buhl, 37; Ray Herbert, 36, and just Sunday added Ed Roebuck, 37. Jim Bunning is a lively 34.

Looking at the standings which show the Phillies in the thick of the National League pennant race, Quinn is quite happy with his aged pitchers.

Junior League Softball Game Wednesday Eve

Formation of a new junior softball league was completed at a meeting with Recreation Director Paul Vardigan at Club 314 Monday night.

First action in the new junior circuit will come Wednesday night at Memorial Field with a 6:45 clash between Hall Insurance and Flat Rock. A regular schedule of games will be drawn up by Vardigan and Clarence Konas, president of the Escanaba Softball Association.

Konas has appealed to all former senior softball players to contribute old uniforms to the young players. "We can use all, or any part of uniforms to help dress up the players on the junior teams," Konas stated. The uniforms may be dropped off at the gate at Memorial Field, he said.

Midsummer Pole Raising

Gladstone Swedish Club will again observe the traditional Swedish Midsummer celebration on Saturday, June 18.

Highlight of the day will be the raising of the Midsummer Pole near the Gladstone Yacht Harbor at 4:30 p.m. In the evening the group and their guests will attend a smorgasbord at the Sherman Hotel in Escanaba.

The pole will be gaily decorated in keeping with centuries-old tradition, according to Chairman Ivan Dahlquist. His group is preparing the decorations this week, including a number of Biblical symbols. He explained that the raising of the Midsummer Pole has been an annual affair in Scandinavian countries for more than 800 years.

On the lower portion of the pole are three cross arms on which hang colored metal crowns, representing the six days in which God created the world. Leaves, flowers and greenery symbolize the growth days of summer. Higher up are four smaller cross arms bearing miniature ships, one for each season.

Still higher is a weather vane, the propeller representing the sun, and the rooster, the Sun's herald. Atop the pole is the figure of John the Baptist, representing man as God's highest product of creation. Streamers of red, white and blue add an American patriotic touch to the pole.

There will be a program, open to the public, at the pole raising including Swedish music, a talk, a prayer, and a memorial tree planting in memory of deceased members of the club. A similar program will take place at the hotel in the evening.

Motorist Pays $75 Fine For Drunk Driving

Howard N. Bolen, 39, of Cedar River, entered a plea of guilty to driving while under the influence of intoxicants in Justice Ross Davis' court at Gladstone on Monday and was ordered to pay a fine of $75 and costs of $5.35.

State Police of the Gladstone post arrested Bolen in Ford River Township on May 28.

Under state law Bolen's operator license is automatically suspended upon conviction for drunk driving.

Consider Study Of Power Rates

The Gladstone City Commission established a tentative truck route and laid plans for a professional survey of existing power rates in a meeting Monday night.

The Commission voted to continue the present electric and water rates but Commissioner George Young said he thought the city should obtain services of qualified persons to determine the advisability of lowering rates without damaging the financial position of the city.

The Commission asked City Manager H. J. Henriksen to investigate these possibilities and report on them at the next meeting.

A delegation of property owners on Lake Shore and Minneapolis Aves. between 11 and 13 streets presented a petition requesting the abandonment of an alley between those streets. Henriksen said the alley was originally platted but had not been used except for work on city utilities. They were asked to bring their abstracts to City Hall in order to determine the status of the property in question.

Ed Murphy requested a petition to have 18th St. between Minneapolis and Montana Aves. paved. He was advised to pick up three separate petitions for paving in the area and these will be considered by the Commission.

Lionel Beaumier, 1710 Marble Ave., asked to have the yield signs from Marble Ave.-Minneapolis Ave. intersection changed to a stop sign, as the area is being used as a "race track" he said.

Residents in the area of Michigan and the highway intersection were told that resurfacing could not be done this year.

Mayor Frank Stupak requested the closing of Minneapolis entrance to Wilderness Park as this area is also being used for racing, creating a dust nuisance in the park. He said the city and the Chamber of Commerce had invested a sizeable amount in the park and this should be maintained on the highest standard. The Commission authorized the closing of all but one entrance.

Computers Aid Tax Collection

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—A mixture of modern and old systems is being used by the Colombian government in an effort to force thousands of Colombians to pay taxes for the first time—and others to bring their old taxes up to date.

Computers "search" in the tax returns for hidden income and other tax dodges. The computers, operated by tax specialists, have contributed to a more rapid processing of tax returns, usually behind several years, and to deal with the taxpayers' back accounts.

They started to operate earlier this year, when the government announced determination to wipe out the growing national budget deficit and to obtain necessary funds for development programs.

The government also had to fulfill its promise to collect more taxes, given to foreign financial concerns that granted large loans to Colombia.

It has been calculated that only 15 per cent of the Colombian population ever pays taxes.

The old method being used to chase taxpayers is publication of the names of those who have not paid tax arrears. This has led to many tips from informers on the real economic status of those persons and on the location and amount of their wealth.

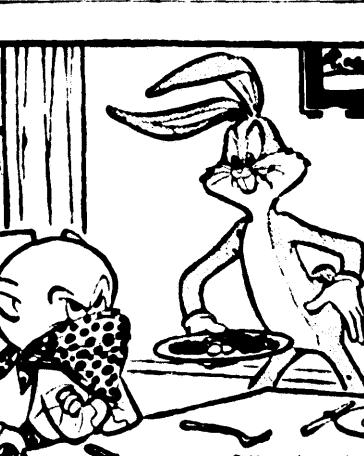

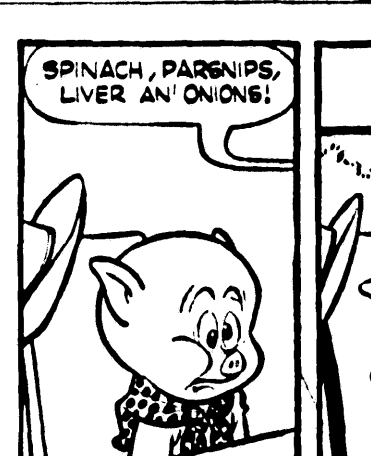

Many of those taxpayers have prominent social, political and economic standing. Publication of their names has caused them problems, forcing them to pay immediately to the government's delight.

Official statistics show that those taxpayers owe $40 million, or 10 per cent of the national budget.

There are no laws punishing tax dodgers. The only penalty in the hands of the government is to check whether the taxpayer is filing a return for less than he earned, and to impose a modest fine.

Turncoat Adams Is On Way Home

HONG KONG (AP)—Korean war turncoat Clarence Adams is leaving for the United States tonight aboard the liner President Cleveland, a spokesman for the American President Lines said today.

The spokesman said the 37-year-old Negro from Memphis, Tenn., would be accompanied by his wife and their two children.

Adams and his family were not available to newsmen. They had checked out of their hotel nine days ago without leaving a forwarding address.

The ex-soldier and his family arrived from Communist China May 26. His departure left in China only two of the 21 American servicemen captured during the Korean war who chose in 1953 to remain with their Communist captors.

Reports Are Increasing

Moose Sighted In Delta

It isn't legal to shoot a moose in the Upper Peninsula, but it's legal to see one and increasing numbers of persons have been spying the big animals from Delta County in the mid-U.P. all the way east to the St. Mary's River, where they've rather commonplace.

Joseph Vogt, game biologist of the Escanaba District of the Michigan Conservation Department, believes that there are probably a score or more of moose in the eastern Upper Peninsula.

"Mel Taylor of the Taylor Poultry Farm, Schaffer, saw a moose north of Cornell on June 1. He got within 50 feet of the animal and identification was 'positive,' Vogt was told.

Warren Lee of Escanaba saw a moose near Ray Richards' camp on the Whitefish River north of Rapid River on June 9. Both were cows. "I doubt it was the same animal," said Vogt.

Cow And Calf

"Conservation Officer Charles Bowen saw a moose near Pole Lake north of Ensign and Forest Service men reported sighting several moose in northeastern Delta County in the summer of 1965, and deer hunters reported seeing moose north of Rapid River last fall. These may be the Pole Lake moose.

"Willard Leppanen has seen a cow and calf moose off and on since December in the area of Eben Junction and, of course, there have been moose along the Tahquamenon River, especially near its mouth, according to Bob Strong, the biologist at Sault Ste. Marie.

"I autopsied a moose killed by a car in 1959 south of Kincheloe Air Force Base and there have been other kills, including a calf at Rudyard and several animals on St. Joseph Island in the St. Mary's River.

"There are moose yards on Neebish Island in the St. Mary's and they're also found on Sugar Island. On St. Joe's Island they kill more moose than they do deer.

Can Live Here

"Moose have left their tracks crossing Ashmun St., the main thoroughfare of Sault Ste. Marie, and one is fished out of the power canal there occasionally."

Vogt said that there is adequate range for moose in the Upper Peninsula, that there were many of them here before the coming of the white men. The early French killed many moose "just to show their dexterity" according to the writings of Father Charlevoix. There were also caribou in the Upper Peninsula in Indian days.

Vogt said that William DeCock reported a moose track in northern Delta County in late May east of the Whitefish River and Forest Service workers reported tracks one mile east of Bishop Lake in April.

Since 1959 there have been 22 moose sightings in the Escanaba District (Marquette and Delta counties and the west half of Alger) and 13 confirmed track sightings. "Undoubtedly some of these were the same moose," said Vogt, "but not all of them."
